

Dutch Literature in the Fields of Public and Private International Law, European Community Law and Related Matters, 2013

I.L. Kost and R. Steenhard
Peace Palace Library, The Hague

This bibliographic survey is intended to provide information for international lawyers and law students, both in the Netherlands and abroad, on materials concerning public and private international law, European community law and related matters published in and outside the Netherlands by Dutch authors or about Dutch issues. 'International law' has been interpreted widely, so as to include related matters, if the work in question deals with international law considerations. Fiscal law, polemology and specific regulations under European law are generally not included. The survey is exclusively based on materials available in the Peace Palace Library, The Hague. It includes books, articles, book-items, inaugural lectures, dissertations and reports published in 2013. The index of headings below corresponds with the New Titles Index of the Peace Palace Library. Items are listed only once, under their most appropriate heading.
