Goal of the PFM training programme

This training course aims to provide participants with an understanding of Public Finance Management (PFM) in all its aspects. The course focuses on Public Finance Management in-depth and builds up knowledge on all aspects of PFM step by step, highlighting the inter-linkages between the different elements. This will enable the participants to become fully acquainted with the various aspects of PFM and to gain insight into how to apply the acquired knowledge in PFM to the reform agendas in their own countries.

The training programme emphasises the three main objectives of PFM: 1) promoting macroeconomic stability by achieving aggregate fiscal discipline; 2) enabling that policy priorities are implemented in an effective way (allocative efficiency); and 3) contributing to an efficient implementation of government services (operational efficiency). The international 'good practice' combined with the practices in the Netherlands and in target countries are the starting point throughout the training course. Besides technical 'good practice', the soft side of PFM such as institutional and cultural aspects, is taken into account.

“Effective public finance management, including the management of aid flows, is crucial to countries making progress in reducing poverty. Weaknesses in public financial management often reflect underlying interests and incentives, and the reform and strengthening of public financial management requires high-level political leadership and support as well as technical skills. For all these reasons, public financial management is likely to remain at the centre of dialogue between aid agencies and partner country governments. At the same time, donors have both a developmental and a fiduciary interest in the quality of their partners’ public financial management.”
