Testimonial

"The Advanced Summer Programme on Countering Terrorism organised by the Asser Institute and ICCT is an extremely valuable resource for many reasons. Not only does it provide attorneys and lay persons with important, current information on the subject, but introduces the participants to institutions and individuals from around the globe who are working to stem this very serious transnational security threat. The programme has been immensely valuable to me in my work educating security professionals in my country and around the world about the legal and other aspects of this titanic struggle. How valuable? I returned to The Hague three years after participating in it once to renew and refresh on the subject matter and players involved...the programme was, somehow, even better than the prior iteration."
