

AKD Student Scholarships Announcement

International Lawyering in a Public Interest

5 partial scholarships offered by AKD available!

Eligible candidates:

The partial scholarships are available to students and PhD candidates. Eligible students and PhDs are those focusing on international law and advocacy, or interested to practice public interest advocacy with international law. Students of related fields will also be considered.

Nationals from non-OECD countries and applicants demonstrating financial need are particularly encouraged to apply for this scholarship.

The partial scholarship covers:

- €750,- tuition fee;
- Lunch, 5 days;
- Course materials;
- Opening dinner;
- Closing reception.

Candidates are responsible to cover their own costs for travel, accommodation and other related expenses.

Application documents to be submitted:

The scholarships will be awarded based on merit. When applying for the summer programme, applicants must submit:

- A completed online partial scholarship application form available at: <https://www.asser.academy/register/ILPI2018.aspx>
- A Curriculum Vitae;
- A letter of motivation (up to 400 words), including argument for scholarship eligibility;
- Two names of references that can be contacted.

Selection method:

Scholarship applications will be reviewed by a panel of professionals from ACIL and the Asser Institute. Applications will be awarded on a rolling basis. Successful candidates will be notified by 19 June at the latest

Application deadline:

There is no application deadline. Scholarships will be awarded on a rolling basis.

Contact and more information:

Should you not receive an automatic confirmation your application was successfully processed within 2 work days, or should you have any further questions regarding scholarships, please contact educationtraining@asser.nl. More information can also be found on www.asser.nl/summerprogrammes