

DOING BUSINESS RIGHT WINTER ACADEMY THE UN GUIDING PRINCIPLES ON BUSINESS AND HUMAN RIGHTS: FROM THEORY TO PRACTICE

28 JANUARY - 1 FEBRUARY 2019

The Winter Academy is an educational programme for advanced students and young professionals dedicated to the growing field of business and human rights

After the adoption of the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights in 2011, a flurry of initiatives by international organisations, national governments, corporations and civil society organisations have seen the light. New national laws are being adopted, new corporate codes are being drafted, and a new international treaty is being negotiated to define and regulate the responsibilities of businesses for human rights. Our Winter Academy will equip a new generation of lawyers with the necessary theoretical and practical skills to navigate and actively engage with these transformations, be it as a lawyer, activist, corporate adviser, government official or researcher.

A hands-on comprehensive programme

The Winter Academy will feature high level academic lecturers who are currently shaping the scholarly debates on business and human rights as well as practitioners with a hands-on experience in the field. Participants will acquire a well-rounded understanding of soft and hard, legal and non-legal accountability mechanisms, through numerous interactive sessions that provide the opportunity to apply theoretical insights to various concrete case studies.

The Winter Academy 2019 covers the following key issues:

- The theoretical and historical roots of the UN Guiding Principles
- The implementation of the UN Guiding Principles at a national and transnational level
- The practical functioning of the responsibility of corporations to conduct human rights due diligence
- The impact of the UN Guiding Principles on the accessibility of remedies in business and human rights cases
- The need for a binding treaty on business and human rights to complement the UN Guiding Principles

Registration

Registration for this programme is now open! Visit www.asser.nl or click here to learn more.

We offer a limited number of scholarships covering the tuition fee for outstanding Master's students and PhD researchers, click here for more information.

FINAL PROGRAMME

DOING BUSINESS RIGHT BEYOND THE STATE: FOUNDATIONS OF THE BUSINESS AND HUMAN RIGHTS FIELD
Monday 28 January 2019
9:30 - 10:00	Wonday 20 January 2019 Welcome and introduction - Antoine Duval (Asser Institute)
10:00 - 12:30	The UN Guiding Principles: A theoretical perspective - Karin Buhmann (Copenhagen
	Business School)
12:30 - 13:30	Lunch
13:30 - 17:00	The road to and from the UN Guiding Principles - Nadia Bernaz (Wageningen University)
	THE UN GUIDING PRINCIPLES IN (NATIONAL) ACTION
Tuesday 29 January 2019
9:00 - 10:30	Implementing the UN Guiding Principles within the state - Antoine Duval (Asser Institute)
11:00 - 12:30	The Australian/UK model: A modern slavery act - Shamistha Selvaratnam (Asser Institute)
12:30 - 13:30	Lunch
13:30 - 15:00	The Dutch model: Multi-stakeholder sectoral implementation of the UN Guiding Principles – Dutch Social Economic Council - Jef Wintermans (SER)
15:30 - 17:00	The French model: Binding due diligence - Elsa Savourey (Herbert Smith Freehils)
THE UN GUIDING PRINCIPLES IN (TRANSNATIONAL) ACTION
Wednesday 30 January 2019
9:00 - 10:30	Implementing the UN Guiding Principles beyond the state - Antoine Duval (Asser Institute)
11:00 - 12:30	Translating the UN Guiding Principles into transnational rules: The OECD Guidelines on multinational enterprises - Kathryn Dovey (OECD)
12:30 - 13:30	Lunch
13:30 - 15:00	Embedding the UN Guiding Principles into transnational corporations – Case Study 1: ASN Bank - Irina van der Sluijs (ASN Bank)
15:30 - 17:00	Embedding the UN Guiding Principles into transnational corporations – Case Study 2: FMO (Dutch Development Bank) - Beatrijs van Manen (FMO)
THE UN GUIDING PRINCIPLES AND ACCESS TO REMEDY
	Thursday 31 January 2019
9:00 - 10:30	The UN Guiding Principles and access to remedy - Antoine Duval (Asser Institute)
11:00 - 12:30	The (in)effectiveness of existing soft remedies: The OECD National Contact Points - Marian Ingrams (OECD Watch)
12:30 - 13:30	Lunch
13:30 - 15:00	Access to remedy in practice: The business and human rights advocacy work of the European Center for Constitutional and Human Rights - Miriam Saage-Maaß
15:30 - 17:00	(European Center for Constitutional and Human Rights) The future of access to remedy: Business and human rights arbitration? - Jan Eijsbouts (Maastricht University) and Judith Levine (Permanent Court of Arbitration)
TOWARDS A BINDING TREATY : HARDENING THE UN GUIDING PRINCIPLES
Friday 1 February 2019
9:30 - 15:00	Workshop with academic experts and civil society organisations on the UN
7.00 13.00	negotiations for a binding treaty

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS

Antoine Duval is a Senior Researcher at the Asser Institute, where he coordinates the Doing Business Right project.

Beatrijs van Manen is Sustainability Officer at FMO (the Dutch Development Bank), where she is responsible for the implementation and roll-out of the FMO Impact Model. Prior to this, she worked as a sustainability management Consultant, mainly active in the fields of socio-economic impact assessments and ESG Management.

Irina van der Sluijs is Senior Advisor Human Rights at ASN Bank. Previously she worked at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in The Hague and spent a year at the OECD in Paris.

Elsa Savourey is a lawyer and the firm-wide coordinator of the Global Business and Human Rights Practice of Herbert Smith Freehills. In this capacity, she advised French transnational corporations on the implementation of the recently adopted French Corporate Duty of Vigilance Law.

Jan Eijsbouts is Professor of Corporate Social Responsibility at Maastricht University and the former General Counsel of Akzo Nobel. He is project leader of the Business and Human Rights International Arbitration project.

Jef Wintermans is Coordinator of the Covenant Sustainable Fashion and Textiles at the Sociaal-Economische Raad (SER).

Judith Levine is Senior Legal Counsel at the Permanent Court of Arbitration in The Hague. She recently published 'Business and Human Rights: A "New Frontier" for International Arbitration?'.

Kathryn Dovey is the manager for National Contact Point (NCP) coordination at the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) in Paris. She was earlier tax policy analyst at OECD, and before that, director at the Global Business Initiative on Human Rights.

Karin Buhmann is Professor of Business & Human Rights at Copenhagen Business School. She recently published 'Changing Sustainability Norms through Communication Processes: The Emergence of the Business and Human Rights Regime as Transnational Law' and 'Power, Procedure, Participation and Legitimacy in Global Sustainability Norms: A Theory of Collaborative Regulation'.

CONFIRMED SPEAKERS

Marian Ingrams coordinates the strategic and logistical activities of the OECD Watch network, advises complaints and appeals filed through National Contact Points.

Miriam Saage-Maaß is Vice Legal Director at European Center for Constitutional and Human Rights in Berlin, where she coordinates the Business and Human Rights program. She has worked on various cases against corporations, including proceedings against Lidl relating to exploitation of workers in Bangladesh and Pakistan and against companies trading in cotton picked through forced child labor in Uzbekistan.

Nadia Bernaz is Associate Professor at Wageningen University. She recently published 'Business and Human Rights: History, Law and Policy'.

Shamistha Selvaratnam is a junior researcher at the Asser Institute, where she contributes to the Doing Business Right project. Before that she worked as a business and human rights solicitor at Allens Linklaters in Australia where she specialised in promoting business respect for human rights through engagement with policy, law and practice.