Acknowledgments

The European Union is traditionally seen as a new, and partly separate, legal order within the framework of international law. At the same time, the EU is an important player in the global governance network. The strong and explicit link between the EU and a large number of other international organisations raises questions concerning the normative impact of international organisations and regimes on the autonomy of the EU and its legal order. Such questions were addressed at a conference organised under the banner of the Centre for the Law of EU External Relations (CLEER) at the premises of the T.M.C. Asser Institute in The Hague on 5 November 2010.

We would like to express our gratitude to the other members of the organising committee (Dr. Christina Eckes, Jan Willem van Rossem, Dr. Nikos Skoutaris) and to the academics and practitioners who contributed to the success of this conference, especially those who expanded and updated their papers so as to contribute to this volume. The Editors would also like to thank those speakers at the conference who were not in a position to hand in written contributions: Dr. Jenő Czuczai (Legal Service, Council of the EU), Dr. Michèle Coninx (President of Eurojust), Dr. Dietrich Neumann (Legal Service, Europol) and Edna Ramirez (World Trade Organization). Thanks also go to colleagues at the T.M.C. Asser Institute for their help in organising the CLEER conference and to the European Commission for its financial support under the Lifelong Learning Jean Monnet programme. Special thanks are also extended to Linda Abeela Kræmer for her language revision and copy-editing of the book.
